THE DOE-WAH-JACK

NINETEEN HUNDRED TWENTY-FOUR

VOLUME ONE

*The Year Book of the
BURLINGTON HIGH SCHOOL
Burlington, N. C.*

PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS

MAY MEMORIAL LIBRARY
Burlington, N. C.

Foreword

THIS, THE FIRST YEAR BOOK published by the Burlington High School, is presented by the class of 1924 to the students and friends of the city schools. We are issuing this book that we and our sister classes may have a record of our high school life; thus proclaiming to you what our class has accomplished, and what our Alma Mater has done for us. The sincere desire of our hearts is that the contents within these covers may be worthy of esteem and remembrance. May the "Doe-Wah-Jack" kindle and help to keep burning the fires of deeper loyalty and firmer devotion to our school. If it attains this ideal, then those who have so faithfully toiled over it will feel that their hopes are fully realized.

TO
MISS EDITH CARROLL
WHO BY HER KIND DISPOSITION AND SYMPATHETIC
HELPLESSNESS HAS WON OUR LOVE AND RESPECT
WE DO GRATEFULLY DEDICATE THIS FIRST

*In the northern land of snow and pine
 Live many bears of many kind,
 Some can see and some are blind,
 And some will growl and some will whine;
 But of all the bears, there's none that will shine
 Like Ted, who belongs at the head of the line.
 This bear is good, and his manners are fine
 He's the Senior mascot, bear Ted in mind.*

THE DOE-WAH-JACK

BYRON ALLEN HAWORTH

"BYRON"

"He is a boy of rare personal qualities."

With all the attributes of a true gentleman, a magnetic personality, perfect poise, and a winning smile, Byron has won for himself a place of high esteem during his two years with us. He has taken a prominent part in all school activities and made the highest average in scholarship in his class.

WILLIAM ROY WINDHAM

"HICO"

"The laborer is worthy of his hire."

Painstaking and faithful in the performance of duty, Roy has not once deviated from these principles. Active in the work of the Literary Societies, silent and unassuming during these four years, he is working toward the accomplishment of some high purpose.

President Athenian Literary Society '23; Track '24.

JAMES FOREST QUALLS

"JERRY"

"The boy who works while the rest one shirks."

Filled with lofty aspirations, Forest goes quietly about his work. A pensive soul, a loyal heart, and thinking brain combine to make him a lad to be pointed out from among the rest as the model of ages—an alert, artistic young man, a doer of things with his hands.

CECIL ANDREWS

"BILLY"

"He's the rock, the oak not to be windshaken."

Cecil works unobtrusively and his classmates are often ignorant of the good work that he accomplishes. He is one of the real orators in school and a tower of strength for the right. His ability to make good is assured.

Varsity Baseball '21, '22, '23, '24.

THOMAS PATTERSON BRANNOCK

"PAT"

"Steam that blows the whistle never turns the wheel."

Pat is never lacking in pep. As cheer leader he cannot be surpassed. Full of fun, and always ready to get behind any movement for betterment and push, he has been a great asset to the class. He is a young man of sterling character and lofty ideals.

Athenian Literary Society; Class Basketball '20; Manager Football '22; Assistant Manager Football '23.

THE DOE-WAH-JACK

HOWARD ALBRIGHT BOLAND

"RUSTY"

"Every man is the architect of his own fortune."

"Rusty" participates in all the fun that comes along, from sweeping to loafing. Some day we expect him to surprise the natives by delivering a sermon in the Front Street Lutheran Church. He has been a faithful member of the class and is well liked by both genders.

Glee Club; Class Basketball '24.

EDWARD EUGENE BLACK

"GENE"

"Bless the man who first invented sleep."

Eugene has proved himself worthy of the confidence reposed in him. With unswerving fidelity to each and every trust, he has been a loyal member of the class. What more can be said?

Class Basketball '22; Class Baseball '23, '24; Varsity Football '23; Manager Baseball '24.

WILLIAM HARVEY BROWN

"COACH"

"Common sense is nature's gift; But reason is an art."

William has been a consistent and ever-plodding student. Beneath his smooth and easy-going surface you will find plenty of character and good practical knowledge, which has won for him many friends who will ever hold him in their memories.

Enphonian Literary Society; President Hi-Y Club '23; Class Basketball '23, '24; Class Baseball '23.

JOHN COBLE, JR.

"JOHNNIE"

"If thou seek'st devilment and fun, then look for John."

"You can't look at John and keep a straight face. Charlie Chaplain is out of the game when John comes in. True to his class and school, John has been one of our most loyal and sincere co-workers, keeping dull care well in the background and scattering real sunshine in its place.

Athenian Literary Society; Cheer Leader '24; Manager Football '23; Class Basketball '23.

MARGARET MAE CHEEK

"BILL"

"Never a duty will she shun, from dawn 'til set of sun."

Mae is the baby of our class in years. She wears a cheerful smile and is always ready to join her companions in their frolics, though she never neglects her studies. Her good grades attest to this statement.

Philomenean Literary Society.

THE DOE-WAH-JACK

GRACE MARIE ELDER

"HALF-A-PINT"

*"She is pretty to walk with, and witty to talk with,
And pleasant, too, to think on."*

"Half-a-Pint" in quantity, but she more than makes up for it in quality. Our basketball team would have been lost without her, and our class would have been incomplete if she had not been among our number. Grace is a general favorite with everyone.

Philo Literary Society; Varsity Basketball '23, '24; Class Basketball '21, '22, '23, '24; Glee Club.

ANNIE ROSE EUDY

"P. ROONEY"

"Life was made for love and cheer."

"P. Rooney's" hobbies are birds and corridors—either a "Martin," or a "Hall." She has an unusually quiet and unassuming nature, but we know that still water runs deep.

Philomean Literary Society; Class Basketball '23.

JAMES PERCY ELDER

"BUCK"

"There are no ladies left; I have them all."

"Buck" is somewhat of a sport, but nevertheless an industrious fellow. We do not know what his future will be, but we are sure that he will reach the top in anything he chooses to put his hand and heart behind.

Athenian Literary Society; Glee Club.

BIRDIE ELIZABETH FIX

"TED"

"With strength to meet sorrow, and faith to endure."

"Ted" is a regular gloom chaser with her smiling face and her jolly laugh. She is always ready to do her part in anything that comes along and we know that we shall see her name emblazoned in the halls of fame some day.

Philomean Literary Society; School Marshal '23.

JOHN HERBERT FAUCETTE

"JACK"

"I am monarch of all the girls I survey."

John is an altogether delightful companion. With sterling qualities attained only by those who intently seek them, he has been a general favorite, spreading sunshine and cheer wherever he has been. A good student, reliable, earnest, and persistent, he will some day make a good M.D.

Secretary Euphonian Literary Society '21; Vice-President Euphonian Literary Society '22; Class President '21; School Marshal '23.

THE DOE-WAH-JACK

LOUIS A GREGG

"LOUISE"

"Ask me no questions and I'll tell you know fibs."

Louis is very much interested in athletics and believes in clean sports. He survived all the kicks in football and we feel certain that he will in the future survive the kicks of life and come out a winner.

Glee Club; Class Basketball '22; Class Baseball, '23, '24; Varsity Football '23.

BESSIE LORRAIGNE GREGG

"BESS"

"A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance."

Bessie is always equal to any occasion. Winning in appearance, jolly and bright, she has been a great force in working out the destiny of the class. No dramatic production has been complete without Bessie playing a leading role. She deserves the applause we give her.

President Philomean Literary Society '24; Cheer Leader '24; President Glee Club '22; School Marshal '23.

EDNA MORE GLENN

"ED"

*"And ne'er did Grecian chisel trace
A nymph, a Niad or a Grace
Of finer form or lovelier face!"*

Edna stands at the top in scholarship, honor, and loyalty. Gentle, kind, and beautiful, she is the sort that leaves you better by having known and come in contact with her. The world will be richer by having had her for the years allotted to her.

Philomean Literary Society; Glee Club.

MARTHA ELIZABETH HORNADAY

"EBBIE"

"Speak when spoken to, for she is wise who speaks less."

Elizabeth is diligent, faithful, and thorough in any duty set for her to perform. What more could be said? She is indeed a valuable asset to our class and we feel sure that the future holds much in store for her.

ARNOLD LEA HOLT

"ARKA"

"One who never turned his back, but marched breast forward."

Arnold has outstanding individual characteristics. He plays his part on the stage of life as a leading man in roles demanding experience and attainment. As Editor-in-chief of the first annual of the B. H. S., he has more than made good.

Varsity Football '22, '23; Class Baseball '22, '23, '24; Editor-in-chief "Doe-Wah-Jack" '24.

THE DOE-WAH-JACK

ROBERT JESSE HALL

"RABBIT"

"His jokes and ready wit are demanded on all occasions."

"Rabbit" has won great athletic honors on the football field and baseball diamond. He is a strong advocate of clean sports. He has a keen sense of humor and always has a joke on the end of his tongue.

Varsity Baseball '22, '23, '24; Varsity Football '23.

HAZELINE HOWELL

"INTELLIGENCE"

"Why worry, it will happen anyway."

There is not a task too hard for Hazeline to tackle, and when she argues with you, it is just as well that you give up. She will undoubtedly be a great stateswoman. In fact, it would not surprise the class to see her the first woman president of the United States.

Philomean Literary Society.

EARNEST ALEXANDER HOLT

"BITTIE"

"Wit and humor belong to the genius alone."

Earnest is the funny boy of the class. He has taken an active part in everything, especially in telling jokes. If there is any extra help needed, he is already ready to volunteer.

Secretary Euphonian Literary Society '22; Class President '21; School Marshal '23; Class Baseball '24; Joke Editor "Doe-Wah-Jack" '24.

CLYDE McKOY HAWN

"SHIEK"

"A lion among women is a dreadful thing."

Clyde is one of the most artistic boys of the class. Between imitating Bill Hart and the Shiek, and knocking bones in a jazz orchestra, he has little time left for earthly matters. However, he has displayed much originality and ability in his work.

Treasurer Euphonian Literary Society '23; Track '24; Class Basketball '24.

JAMES ALEXANDER HOLT

"JIM"

"The ladies, heaven bless them."

Happy-go-lucky and care-free is "Jim"—the boy who never worried or hurried. He is another who has labored with us these four long years. Being a handsome fellow, he will without doubt cause many a heart to be shattered.

THE DOE-WAH-JACK

GLADYS HOLT

"PARTNER"

"Her glossy hair was clustered o'er a brow Bright with intelligence and fair and smooth."

We give our whole-hearted praise to this girl with the indispensable qualities of true womanhood. Earnest, sincere, and kind, Gladys has gone about her work in such a way that she has stood at the top in scholarship and affection.

Phalo Literary Society; Associate Editor "Doe-Wah-Jack" '24.

RUTH LEA HAY

"WUT"

"As fair as a rose at dawn, and on her lips there's ever a song."

Ruth has been a guiding spirit of the basketball team, for she has guided the ball through the goal scores of times, thus leading our team to victory. With a most delightful personality, she is a prize eagerly to be sought.

President Philomean Literary Society '22; Vice President Class '22; Captain Basketball Team '24; Class Treasurer '24; Glee Club; School Marshal.

NETTIE MYRTLE ISLEY

"JIMMY"

"There is nothing lacking, she is true and sound."

A truer description of our Myrtle could never be found. Her quietness is trained power in repose; her life records good deeds and loving words.

Philomean Literary Society; Class Basketball '20.

COMAN DEANSON ISLEY

"CO"

"It is our actual work which determines our value."

Coman is one of those quiet, unassuming, good natured boys whom everyone delights in numbering among his friends. Nothing every worries him. As the days fade into the mystic past, we shall see him steadily climbing to the top.

JOHN HOWARD INGLE

"GRUB"

"Roll on old world and I'll roll with you."

With a surplus of energy and cheerfulness, John has been well liked by all. His star is in the ascendant and when it reaches its zenith—well we'll be proud to claim him as our own.

Hi-Y Club; Class Baseball '24.

THE DOE-WAH-JACK

MARY ELIZABETH JONES

"FRENCHY"

"A cheerful companion is worth gold."

It is a known fact that Mary likes a good time, but when time to lay aside frolic has come there are few who can beat her at good hard work. Such a rare combination is to be commended.

Philomean Literary Society; Class Basketball '20; Glee Club.

PAUL JONES

"RED"

*"Lazy, slow and unconcerned
He went to class and sometimes learned."*

"Red" has the determination to win. That's why he can buck the football line so well. We are sure that when he bucks the line in life, he will go straight through and win his goal.

Athenian Literary Society; Varsity Football '22, '23; Track '23.

AGNES DIMPLE KING

"A. DEAKIE"

*"There was a soft and gentle grace,
A cast of thought upon her face."*

Agnes is not a flapper. She is a girl with not only a womanly air, but with true womanly qualities. In music there are few who surpass her. Such girls are hard to find, but when found are more than worth the search.

Philomean Literary Society; Class Basketball '20; Glee Club.

CARRIE BELLE KERNODLE

"DINKY"

"Her air, her manners, all who saw admired."

Carrie Belle is the same good friend to all her class-mates at all times. She has been a smooth, easy-going and consistent student, and her friends are numbered by her acquaintances.

Philomean Literary Society.

NORA PADGETT LANE

"NAT"

"What she bravely thought, she nobly dared."

"Nat" deserves highest applause, not only because she is attractive, but because of her dependability. She is respected and loved by all the students. It is a pleasure pure and lasting to have had her in the class.

Vice-President Phalo Literary Society '22; President Phalo Literary Society '23.

THE DOE-WAH-JACK

KATHLEEN McClURE

"KAT"

"She hath a heart to conceive, an understanding to direct, a tongue to persuade, and hands to execute."

This is Kathleen's character in a nutshell. She has been very thorough and has left no loose ends. Such a girl could not fail to make a big success of her life and we expect great things of her in the future.

Philomean Literary Society; Glee Club.

ADA MARGUERITE McINTIRE

"CHEWING GUM"

"A sweet attractive kind of grace."

Ada has the rare combination of reserve and friendliness which assures her success. Her chosen profession is to be a nurse and we know that in this capacity she will be a veritable angel of mercy. We know that she will fulfill the expectations of her classmates.

Philomean Literary Society.

OLA JOSEPHINE MILES

"MIDGET"

"None but herself can be her parallel."

Ola being "sweeter than honey in the honey-comb" is a very popular girl among the male members of the class. Kinder than the kindest, her sunny disposition has won golden opinions from all sides.

Phalo Literary Society; Varsity Tennis '23; Class Basketball '23; Glee Club.

L. LUTHER MONTGOMERY

"LUKE"

"You'd be surprised."

Uncle Sam called Luther last year, but his home town called stronger so he returned home to be one of us again. "You'd be surprised" to know how many things Luther knows and how much he can accomplish.

Class Baseball '24.

EDWIN MOORE

"LUBBY"

"Three-fifths of him genius and the rest sheer judge."

Edwin has the determination to complete anything he once commences. Many are the flappers who have succumbed after one look into his laughing blue eyes. He has taken much interest in athletics.

Athenian Literary Society; Varsity Football '23; Hi Y Club.

THE DOE-WAH-JACK

CORA CARLEEN PENNINGTON

"SHORTY"

"Even though vanquished, she could argue still."

Carleen is our athletic star. She has won many laurels for our team on the basketball floor. With a ready smile, and beloved by all, she is a very dependable and capable girl with a bright future before her.

Phalo Literary Society; Manager of Basketball '24; Varsity Basketball '23, '24; Class Basketball '22, '23, '24.

ERWIN MILLARD QUALLS

"MERK"

"All may have, if they dare try, a glorious life or grave."

Millard has the ability to do anything well that he undertakes. He never has time to loaf for he sticks to his job and takes life seriously. His vocation seems inclined toward the literary world, for in school he has possessed the natural ability to win essay and composition prizes.

Track Team '23, '24.

ROBERT MAXWELL RIDDLE

"SHOATE"

"The world would be mine, if I just had time to take it."

"Shoate" is a boy of rare personal qualities and extreme individuality. He gave himself without stint as Business Manager of our annual. Without him the B. H. S. Eleven could never have existed. We give him our admiration without reserve, for he has been a loyal co-worker during our four years.

Varsity Football '22, '23; Class Basketball '20, '21; Class Baseball '22, '23, '24; Business Manager "Doe-Wah-Jack" '24.

CONSTANCE LOUISE ROSS

"CONNIE"

*"Her modest looks the cottage might adorn,
Sweet as the primrose that peeps from beneath the thorn!"*

A jolly, black-eyed beauty is "Connie." She likes to have a good time so she just goes ahead and has it, but she knows how to apply herself when the proper time comes. We have been fortunate to have had her in the class.

Philomean Literary Society.

JOSEPH EDISON RIDDLE

"BABE RUTH"

"Deep versed in books and pleased with himself."

Joe has wone fame for himself as an athlete, but he has never let his training along this line interfere with his studies. He has kept at the top and if he goes at things in life as he has in school, there's no telling where he will land.

Varsity Baseball '21, '22, '23, '24; Varsity Basketball '22, '23; Varsity Track '23, '24; Glee Club.

THE DOE-WAH-JACK

EDNA GERTRUDE STAFFORD

"TUT"

"In every gesture, dignity."

Gertrude is really dignified. She has been faithful and true to our class from beginning to end. Whatever may be her aspirations, she will succeed if she displays as much vim in life as she has in school.

Philomean Literary Society.

TROY LYMAN STANFORD

"SNAKE"

"I dare do all that may become a man."

Like the majority of tall men "Snake" is good-natured, resolute, even tempered, and very likable. His seriousness of purpose and congenial disposition have won for him innumeral friends. He is recognized as a leading student and thinker.

Glee Club; Varsity Basketball '23; Class Baseball '24.

MARVIN SHEPHERD

"SHEP"

*"A helping hand, and plenty of pep—
A ready smile, a friend is 'Shep.'"*

"Shep" has won many friends by his genial nature, dignity, grit, and loyalty. As a student he ranks among the best in the class. We predict a great career for this worthy young man.

President Euphonian Literary Society '24.

MARGARET EOLINE SHAW

"E"

*"Will'st thou have music?
Then seek her."*

Eoline has been with the class only one year, but we wonder how we got along without her. She has taken an active part in all school activities and has endeared herself to us in this short time. With Shakespeare we say "I do applaud thy spirit."

Phalo Literary Society; Glee Club.

JOHN RICHARD SEXTON

"DICK"

"Serenely I fold my hands and wait."

Richard is a jolly good fellow, seldom allowing himself to be serious. With touch so light and accents sweet he thrills the hardest hearts with his music. He will have a host of friends wherever life may lead him.

Euphonian Literary Society; Glee Club; Track '24

THE DOE-WAH-JACK

GEORGE WALLACE STAFFORD

"G. W."

"Climb, though the rocks be rugged."

"G. W." is one of our old stand-bys. He is true blue and there is no doubt that good fortune will not only follow him all his life but will also be his constant companion.

Varsity Basketball '24; Class Basketball '24.

THOMAS RAMAH SHOFFNER

"TOM"

"Coolness and absence of heat indicate fine qualities."

"The Silent" is the most descriptive term that can be found for this big hearted girl, who has an affectionate and endearing disposition toward all. She will undoubtedly make a success at anything she attempts in life.

Philomean Literary Society.

WALTER TATE

"TATE BUG"

*"Through sunshine, clouds, and gloom,
He speaks to us through his cartoons."*

These lines well describe Walter. He has certainly worked faithfully for this annual. His cartoons have driven away many a cloud and brought the sunshine back to us when our teachers wanted to be serious.

Athenian Literary Society; Hi-Y Club; Art Editor "Doe-Wah-Jack" '24.

THOMAS NEWTON TURNER

"RED"

"What I can't see I won't believe in."

Thomas passes everything through the alembic of his mind, his calculations are sound. He makes few false steps. He has been a tremendous asset to the class. If you don't believe it, ask "P. Rooney," she knows.

Euphonian Literary Society; Hi-Y Club; Class Baseball '23, '24; Varsity Baseball '23.

LYNN WOOD TATE

"LYSANDER"

"Slow and steady, but with a voice helpful at a game."

Lynn is not a book worm. He admires wit and would rather hear someone else make a mistake than make it himself. Fortunate is he, for he will never have any lung disease, his lungs are too well developed. Ladies, beware! He is a heart breaker.

Hi-Y Club.

THE DOE-WAH-JACK

ELIZABETH WILSON

"BETTIE"

"Earnestness and sincerity are synonyms."

Here is one of the best girls who ever came to B. H. S.—just plain "Bettie." She is kind-hearted and generous. If you don't believe that she is an expert in Home Economics, just taste her cakes and candies.
Philomean Literary Society.

CHARLEY ANDERSON WALKER

"CHUBBY"

"'Tis will that makes intelligence."

Charley is full of fun and his hobby is attempting to torment the teachers, but he has never let this interfere with his studies. We don't know whether all the girls like Charlie, but we know whom Charlie likes the best.
Class Basketball '24; Hi-Y Club.

CORINNA WALKER

"KENNY"

"Do the ordinary things extraordinarily well."

Corinna has been with us all of the four years. She has an even temper, quiet and gentle disposition and goes steadily about her work. We are sure that the future holds great things for her.
Philomean Literary Society.

MAMIE FLORENCE WILSON

"A child of fortune, but by her unspoiled."

Mamie is very quiet until occasion demands and then she can open up and display her knowledge. She is very unassuming and modest and has a place in the affections of all the class.
Philomean Literary Society.

AUBREY BRIGHT WINDHAM

"COB"

"The quiet mind is richer than a crown."

When it comes to flowery oratory or true poetry, Aubrey is always on the job. "Cob" is a fine fellow with an even temper. In school and out he has a veritable host of friends and admirers. Such a boy will succeed.
Athenian Literary Society; Class Prophet '24; Glee Club.

THE DOE-WAH-JACK

VIRGINIA HOLT WILLIAMSON

"VA"

"A laugh is worth a hundred shillings in any market."

It was a high day, in the class history, when Virginia joined us. She has been a wonder in every line of activity. She has been a leading star in all dramatic activities and her histrionic ability is conceded by all. Cherishing a cordial good will for everyone, her quick sympathy, high ideals and keen sense of honor have made her a matchless and trustworthy classmate.

Philomean Literary Society; Glee Club; Class Reporter '24.

RUTH LEE WILSON

"RASTUS"

*"Be gone, dull care, I pray thee, be gone from me,
Be gone dull care, thou and I shall ne'er agree."*

No matter how dignified or serious the question or occasion, Ruth is bound to laugh before it is over. Such glibly is a talent for it lightens many a seemingly heavy load. Ruth is a good student and has more than made good.

Phalo Literary Society.

MELBA WARREN

"JAKE"

"True as the needle to the pole, or the dial to the sun."

Melba has been one of our most active members. She has put her whole heart in the work and has stood high in esteem and scholarship. Her sunny disposition will win friends in any circle and a bright future looms before her.

Secretary Phalo Literary Society '23; President Phalo Literary Society '24; Class Treasurer '22, '23; Class Historian '24; School Marshal '23.

EDMUND OTIS WINDHAM

"WINDY"

"Full of fun and devilment, without the girls what would he do."

Otis takes an active part in all school affairs, and is a real leader. Judging from his success and ability in the past we do not hesitate to predict for him an enviable reputation and position in the future.

Class Baseball '20, '23; President Glee Club '24; Assistant Business Manager "Doe-Wah-Jack" '24.

THE DOE-WAH-JACK

Class History

IN SEPTEMBER OF 1920 the doors were flung open and fifty-one green freshmen stumbled up the steps of the awe-inspiring Burlington High School. We were a happy, yet scared bunch, to think that at last our goal had been reached after several long years in Grammar School. The fact that we were Freshmen did not lessen our feeling of importance, though at times we were scared out of our wits when a dignified Senior would cast one of their supercilious glances at us for some slight, unavoidable mistake. Our principal, Mr. Charles W. Davis, and other members of the faculty, labored with us. When our class was organized, we chose as our president one of our most capable members, Ernest Holt, who aided us greatly in solving our numerous and weighty problems. We must not pass over our freshman year without mentioning our first social, the Hallowe'en masquerade party, given us by the Sophomores. Before we realized it June had come, and we were released from behind the bars for three months.

Sophisticated Sophomores at last! What a glorious feeling we had, just to think that we could assert our authority over the Freshmen. But we were kind and generous to them, for we believed in the maxim, "do unto others as you would have them do unto you." This year our number increased to eighty-eight and our class organized under the leadership of Dace Jones. By this time we had forgotten the bashfulness of our freshman year. Under the loving care of our upper classmen we flourished and were soon enthusiastically engaged in the school activities. We followed the old custom and gave an enjoyable Hallowe'en social to the Freshmen. This year many of our boys and girls were stars on the athletic field and we gained many honors for our class and our school.

The Sophomore year passed quickly and we soon found ourselves inevitable Juniors. This was an historical year. The class of twenty-four had made an unusual record which distinguished it from all other classes. Six of our classmates entered into the great sea of matrimony during our Junior year; others fell by the wayside; and our principal was no longer with us—we missed them all. However, under the splendid supervision of our new principal, Mr. Donnell Van Noppen, we gained much knowledge, and our burdens seemed lighter. We profited by experience and organized our class early. The following officers were elected: Cecil Andrews, President; Ruth Hay, Vice-President; Forest Qualls, Secretary; Melba Warren, Treasurer. Many were our joys during our Junior year, but with joy comes sorrow, and so it was with us. One of our best members, Clyde Boswell, was taken from us early in the spring term. His loss was not only mourned by the Junior class, but by the entire student body and faculty. With grief-stricken hearts and bowed heads we followed his body to the cemetery to pay our last tribute to one we loved so well.

This year we followed the old tradition and gave the Seniors a royal banquet, although we enjoyed the occasion to the fullest, we mourned over our empty purses and hoped that bread cast upon the waters might return after many days. We also took a vigorous part in athletics and literary society work. We saw the beginning of foot-ball in our high school and one of our class members, William McIntire, elected captain.

June again released us for three months vacation. At the end of this time we find ourselves at the goal for which long we have striven and struggled. We also find ourselves the most envied class of the High School—nothing less than dignified Seniors! This year not only members of our class, but our principal as well, deserted us. However, we are indeed fortunate in having Mr. W. D. Halfacre to fill this vacancy and under his leadership and patience we boast of the greatest achievement of the four long years, the editing of this annual, the first successful attempt along this line in the history of the Burlington High School. We organized our class and elected the following officers: Byron Haworth, President; Roy Windham, Vice-President; Forest Qualls, Secretary; and Ruth Hay, Treasurer. Again we have been lucky on the athletic field. Although we do not claim the entire credit for our standing in athletics, we are not too modest to admit that many honors have been won by us for our school. The Senior girls carried the laurels for basketball, and the high school cheer leaders were elected from the Senior class.

Now we are working, waiting, and silently praying that we may receive our reward for work accomplished by us. The chief delight of the high school faculty is to have us burn the midnight oil for them. If this we sometimes fail to do, we are greeted the next day with a just reward, a series of lectures, each forty minutes long, and each with a different speaker on an entirely new subject. After being made to listen to several of these, we are physically exhausted, but the ears of the authorities are turned to stone, and we are required to spend many weary hours after school attending matinees given by the faculty, in honor of us.

It has been said that history records the works of the great. If this statement be true, this sketch may probably be called a history. The class of 1924 has tried faithfully to set a higher standard so that we may remain models for those who are, and those who are to be. We are taking away with us the possessions that we have rightfully gained and that we deem priceless—the happy memories of our sojourn in the Burlington High School, and the many friends which we hope shall last forever.

The Class of '24

*HERE'S to the Class of '24
The pride of B. H. S.
Here's to the pupils, rich and poor,
Who have made it a success.*

*Here's to our faculty so dear,
Who tried by the sweat of their brow
To raise the Class of '24
To the glory it shines in now.*

*Here's to others who have helped us
From the crushing defeats of yore;
To make the pride of B. H. S.
The Class of '24.*

THE DOE-WAH-JACK

Class Poem

THE TIME draws nigh, when we must part
Into the broad realms of mystic art.
We hope sincerely that the foundation is laid,
That we may not reap from the errors made;
But onto the world, we are care-free thrown
To reap the harvests of the seeds we've sown.
Yet happy and gay, we conquer our fears
And laugh in the face of Failure's sneers,
So we're saying "Farewell," not in jest,
But to win best fame for dear B. H. S.

We're tracing back with rapid glance—
The hard-fought days with the forlorn chance,
The days of joy, the days of pain,
When mirth seemed lost and joy was vain;
But if our labors have been richly repaid,
We shall thank the school where once we stayed.
We're leaving the good friends so happily won,
From whom we are parting like the setting sun:
God grant that those who staid our fears,
May be nobly rewarded in their after years.

Again we look back on the long race course,
Realizing the things that have made for force—
To carry us through the world of success,
Cheering our hearts and making misery less.
Before us lies the cold, dreary world,
Which seems so uncertain in its busy whirl.
We turn from the gate, sorrowful yet gay,
Into the unknown that leads us away
From the old, familiar worlds we have known,
We turn our backs to face the new, alone.

DISTINGUISHED POET
SPOKE BEFORE SOUTH-ERN POET'S SOCIETY

Mr. Millard Qualls, noted poet of Boston, Mass., discussed southern literature at the meeting of the Southern Poet's Society, Thursday evening in the auditorium of the new high school building. Miss Bessie Gregg, the new president of the Society, introduced Mr. Qualls in a most jovial manner. Mr. Qualls has won international recognition as a poet and short story writer. His address consisted of modern poetry of the South, of readings from prominent southern poets, and readings from his own productions.

Glen Raven Teachers Elected

Glen Raven, May 12.—Miss Elizabeth Hornaday, Chairman of the Board of Education of the Glen Raven High School, announced today that the faculty for next session would be as follows: Principal, Mr. Cecil H. Andrews; French, Miss Gladys Holt; mathematics, Miss Ramah Shoffner; English, Miss Mamie Wilson; history and athletics, Mr. Louis Gregg; Latin, Miss Hazeline Howell.

The faculty will be the same as that of the year now closing with the exception of Mr. Gregg, who taught at Haw River last session.

Revival Begins Next Sunday

A revival will begin at the Front Street Methodist Church, Sunday, May 15th. Rev. James Elder will preach and Miss Carrie Belle Kernodle will conduct the singing. Miss Myrtle Isley, who has just returned from the missionary fields of Japan, will speak at the Sunday night service, on the interesting experiences of her two years' stay in the Orient.

PROMINENT SPEAKER TO BE
HERE SATURDAY

Eugene Black, of Winston-Salem, director of the national board of conservation and fire prevention, will speak here Saturday evening at the New Piedmont Hotel, at the banquet which is being arranged by the local chamber of commerce. All members wishing to attend the banquet are requested to make reservations through Secretary Ernest Holt. Mr. Charlie Walker, President of the chamber of commerce, will act as toastmaster at the banquet.

Lutheran Church Has New Pastor

The first Lutheran Church of this city is fortunate in having secured Rev. Marvin M. Shepherd as their new pastor. Mr. Shepherd is a young man in the profession and promises to give something to the preaching world.

New Manager for Local Movies

Thomas Brannock will take charge of the motion picture shows of the city shortly, it was officially announced today. In addition to the two theatres now in operation, Mr. Brannock says there will soon be erected a $200,000 theatre, which will be called "The Pat."

New Doctors and Nurses at Rainey Hospital

Drs. John Faucette and Max Riddle have accepted positions at Rainey Hospital to help rid the town and state of sickness and disease. These two doctors are especially efficient in their chosen profession; Dr. Faucette through inheritance; and Dr. Riddle having worked in a drug store as a "soda jerker" for a number of years. They will be assisted by two new and excellent nurses, Misses Mae Cheek and Agnes King.

STATE COLLEGE
CHOOSES DIRECTOR
FOR SUMMER SCHOOL

Raleigh, May 12.—The election of Director Byron Haworth, of the state board of vocational education, as the director of the summer school of the State College, was made known here today by Dr. Edwin Moore, President of the College. Mr. Haworth will be the successor of Dr. Clyde Hawn, who has been director of the school since 1930.

As associates in the summer school, Mr. Haworth will have Miss Bettie Wilson as director of Home Extension agents; William Brown, director of Farm Demonstrations agents; and Prof. Richard Sexton, head of the department of vocal instruction at State College.

B. H. S. Men Enter Wilson League

Wilson, May 12.—Manager Howard Boland of the Wilson Baseball League, today announced that he had succeeded in signing up two additional players for this season. "Bob" Hall, who has been in the Southern League, has been assigned to the keystone position, while Joe Riddle, from the South Atlantic League, will hold the first sack. With these veterans, Manager Boland is very optimistic over this season's prospects.

Burlington Man Joins Circus

John Coble, Jr., has resigned his position as manager of the Coca-Cola Bottling Works and signed a $1,000 contract with the Ringling Brothers Circus. As a clown, Mr. Coble says that he can make more people laugh than if he remained in the ale business. Mr. Coble has at last begun to realize the height of his ambition, toward which he has striven continually since early boyhood.

New Grocery Store Near Completion

A new grocery store is being speedily erected on the corner of Coffee and Flour Streets. Mr. Troy Stanford who will be the owner and proprietor of this new enterprise, assures the public the "Best groceries at the lowest prices."

Piedmont to Erect New Line

The Piedmont Power and Light Co. has finally decided to run the much talked of line from Burlington to Glen Raven. "The erection of this line will involve a long time and an enormous cost," declares Civil Engineers Coman Isley, and James Holt, who will survey the line and superintend the entire construction of this giant project.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Luther Montgomery and Paul Jones are writing a book of essays on "How to Enjoy School Life," which will soon be published in three volumes by the Stafford and Turner Publishing Co., of Haw River, N. C.

The contract for the replacement of the Haw River trestle was let today to Otis Windham. Mr. Windham has recently returned from Troy, New York, where he won degrees in Civil and Mechanical Engineering in the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

Miss Grace Elder, of the Ziegfeld Follies, considered one of the best classic dancers in America, has gone to Europe in interests of her profession. Miss Ruth Wilson, her private secretary, who was detained in New York, will join Miss Elder in Paris.

The Paint-Slingers Art Studio, which was opened last week by J. Forest Qualls and Walter Tate, has enrolled twenty-five pupils. Mr. Tate is giving lessons in cartooning and Mr. Qualls in decorative designing and sign painting.

Miss Ola Miles today defeated Miss Carleen Pennington in the Interstate Tennis Tournament at Pinehurst. The score was 8-6, 7-5, 6-4.

The Red Bird Tea Room opened yesterday on South Main Street, with Misses Connie Ross and Annie Eudy as proprietors. The public, including all "Tea-Hounds," are heartily invited to visit this new shop.

"Don't burn the woods trying to kill a few grasshoppers and boll weevils. The woods are likely to suffer more than either of the insects," says W. Roy Windham, State Forester, Raleigh, N. C.

Miss Corinna Walker has accepted a position as a stenographer with the North Carolina Real Estate Co., of Wilmington. Mr. Lynn Tate of this city, has recently been made president of this company.

Miss Nora Lane will leave here June 4th for Swarthmore, Pa., where she will resume her duties on the Redpath Chautauqua Circuit as Junior Leader.

Miss Mary Jones is sailing tomorrow for Paris, France, where she will take up her work as a designer of dresses in connection with the Fashion Shop of Mebane, N. C.

Miss Adah McIntire has resigned her position with the Rose Theatre and has accepted the position as manager of the Capital Theatre, New York City.

Miss Gertrude Stafford, noted soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, accompanied by Miss Eoline Shaw, pianist, will broadcast a program from radio station WEAJ, New York, on the evening of May 30th.

It was learned today that Miss Melba Warren and Miss Ted Fix, who have been instructors in the Home Economics Department of Greensboro College for Women for the past three years, have resigned their positions for next year. It is rumored that they are going to put into practice the principles they have so long preached. We sincerely wish each a happy voyage on the sea of matrimony.

Mr. Arnold Holt, Manager of the Burlington Hardware Co., is leaving in a few days for Cuba where he will spend his vacation. He will return by way of the Bermudas and Gibsonville.

SOCIAL NEWS

THE DOE-WAH-JACK

Junior Class History

WHILE SPEEDING ACROSS the briny deep on a recent voyage to Europe whom should I encounter on deck but Mr. Charles W. Davis. Well, we just sat down and began talking over the days we had spent in Burlington High School. Freshman! Indeed I was, back in those days of '21, and the greenest kind. Mr. Davis was our principal when the class to which I belonged entered on that strange new journey. It was in our freshman year that we made our debut both in athletics and in scholarship. Our first president was Fern Lasley; vice-president, Graves Holt; secretary and treasurer, Erma Stadler.

Mr. Davis was suddenly called away and I was left in a reminiscent mood. But hark! The sound of music from a flute came floating through the air. I knew that such melodious music could be made by but one person in the world, and looking around I saw that person—Mr. Donnell Van Noppen. The music ceased and our tongues began. Yes, he remembered my Sophomore year when he was principal of old B. H. S., and how my class made the other classes realize our caliber. The halo was around our heads in athletics. We walked off with the victor's wreath in baseball and basketball. We also had five men on the varsity football team. Our prominence was impressed on our schoolmates by our taking the lead in scholarship. Our president that year was Graves Holt; vice-president, Irene Holder; secretary and treasurer, Fern Lasley. As Mr. Van Noppen was called away, I thought, "those days have gone forever."

Not forever, though, for swinging down the deck on crutches came Mr. W. D. Halfacre, with his "other half" by his side. After our hearty exchange of greetings, Mr. Halfacre informed me in his most familiar tones that the crutches were the results of the long and weary hours he had spent chasing those saints (?) of the 1925 class, the Juniors of B. H. S. when he was principal. Pink slips and white slips and other new leaves were turned over for us during that memorable year. Again we had a good showing in football, having seven men on the team. Again we were acclaimed undisputed champions of the high school in basketball. The class also made a notable showing that year in other extra curricula activities, having many of its members in the Glee Clubs and Literary Societies. Roy Whitley was our president; Bertha White, vice-president; Lucy Boone, secretary; and Lyla Brown, treasurer.

On the deck of this great ship, where I had thus reviewed the happy days of three years of high school life, I lapsed into forgetfulness and so leave the history of the Senior year of this illustrious class to your imagination.

Sophomore Class History

OH! WHAT a memorable day was September 14, 1922! It was the day on which the class of 1926 began its high school journey. At that time we did not realize what a serious moment it was.

Early in the year we organized our class. The first president was Bertha White; our vice-president was Robert Councilman; Waller Workman, our secretary and treasurer. With these efficient leaders we began to realize the joys of high school days. However, a gloom was soon cast over us. In February we were all very much grieved by the death of our beloved fellow class-mate, Finley Coble.

In our freshman year a few of our members gained high honors in track. We also had one representative in the Declaimer's Contest at Guilford College. The class came within a narrow margin of winning the high school championship in basketball, defeating the Juniors and almost defeating the Sophomores.

Our class believed in the old maxim, "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," so when spring came we went on several outings. The most enjoyable of these was the picnic and wiennie roast given near the last of the school term at Kernodle's farm. On June second we were released again and our vacation began.

After three months of joyous merry-making we returned to school on September 12, 1923. We were all delighted to see each other again and were determined to put in a good, profitable year. There were quite a number of new members added to our class.

Again we organized. Robert Councilman was elected president; Kendall Shoffner, vice-president; and Hazel Thompson, secretary and treasurer. This year we have been represented on all of the athletic teams of our school. Our class has not only made a fine record in athletics and public speaking, but also in scholarship. We have had more pupils on the honor roll this year than any other class in high school. One month the number from our class exceeded the total number from all the other high school classes.

Every two weeks we have class meetings at which times very interesting programs are rendered. Since our class has shown so much class spirit and school spirit, we feel that there is much good in store for the class of '26.

THE DOE-WAH-JACK

Freshman Class History

THE CLASS OF 1927, like pilgrims, set sail on the Sea of Learning September 12th, 1923. The captains for this crew of brave souls were Misses Morrow, Webster, and Mr. Rainey, who by their wisdom of past experience helped the class set its sails in order that it might start its voyage toward the Shore of Knowledge.

Before starting on this perilous trip the class selected from their crew the bravest as ferryman; Kern Lee Thompson (President); and Rowers to assist him, Olivia Stadler (Vice-President), Eleanor Fix (Secretary and Treasurer), and Velna Gregg and John Hughes (Critics). The last named oarsman was obliged to take ship for another port, so Arnold Qualls was put in his place.

Then with their banner of Purple and Gold fluttering in the breeze, and their motto, "Non sibi sed omnibus" ("Not for one's self, but for all") written on every heart, the ship left harbor bound for the "Promised Land"—the Land of Knowledge.

The first month of the voyage was braved by many pilgrims with a smile, but for others it was very discouraging, and they were called before the captains to receive advice regarding their journey on the "Sea of Learning."

The second and third months were not as perilous as the first, but still there were some not brave enough to stand the test, so the captains invited them into their cabins in the afternoons to free shows, "matinees," to try in this way to encourage and persuade them to make stronger efforts to keep their life boats afloat.

Although the class has lost a few passengers at sea, others have been picked up at different ports until there are now ninety-one brave and sturdy sailors, who with minds kindled with zeal and hopefulness are making every effort to propel their boat toward the first Island where they may stop for fuel and food, the sunny Island of Summer Vacation. From this pleasant port, after a short rest, they will renew their journey toward the port of Sophomore Year.

The Boys' Glee Club, an old organization in B. H. S., was reorganized early last fall. The enrollment this session is the largest in the Club's history.

Miss Dorothy Shaw, the efficient director, has had the Club give several enjoyable programs in chapel. Plans have been perfected for the sending of representatives to the State Musical Contest to be held at Greensboro the latter part of April. There is no need to say that these representatives will be real contestants for the different awards.

Last April the Club entered the State Musical Contest at Greensboro and won two second places—Girls' Glee Club and Girls' Quarettette. This year the same entrees will be made, and two additional solo events.

Much interest and enthusiasm has been shown by the girls in rehearsing for this contest. The students would not be surprised should they return from the contest with several trophies.

A large portion of the success of the Glee Club is due to the able and efficient director, Miss Dorothy Shaw.

Football Squad 1923

*"The harder you fall, the higher you bounce,
Be proud of your blackened eye;
It isn't the fact that you're licked that counts,
But how did you fight, and why?"*

The Burlington High School has no reason to view with disfavor the accomplishments of the 1923 football team. With a beginning of practically all new material, Coach Dabbs succeeded in building a smooth running football machine. Every man on the squad was "in there" and fought. They plunged, tackled, and ran like demons.

The nine games played resulted in six victories, one tie, and two defeats. The team piled up a total of 105 points, while the opponents were able to register only 40. This data, however comprehensive it may seem, does not measure or evidence the real success of the season. This can best be measured by stating that every player on the squad played in a clean, untarnished, and sportsman-like manner.

Future years may produce teams more capable of winning games than this team was, but the fine spirit of loyalty and sportsmanship will not be surpassed.

The last season's tennis schedule matched the locals against some of the fastest teams in this section of the State. Having won two matches from Guilford and one from Lexington, the team was forced to taste defeat at the hands of Greensboro, Winston-Salem, and Lexington at the second meeting with their team. Fortune was with the opposing teams in both State Meets, the locals being forced out in the first elimination round at Chapel Hill and again at Greensboro.

The outlook for a strong team is much brighter this season than last. In addition to last year's material, several new contestants are practicing daily. At this time the schedule for this year's matches has not been completed.

Track is the oldest form of athletic sports. Burlington students look upon their trackmen with the same pride and admiration that the ancient Greeks did upon their class athletes when they met every four years at the foot of Mount Olympus. For the past few years the Burlington track teams have stood among the best in the State. Present indications are that this year's team will show up well in the race for State championship honors.

The squad has chosen Robert Councilman to steer the team in the ways of speed. Captain "Bob" is not only fast in the dashes, but he also possesses splendid qualities as a leader. Whatever the team wins this year, much of the credit should go to him, and Mr. Rainey, the efficient coach.

At the present writing the team has been in action only once. This was in the four-cornered meet at Elon College between the Burlington, High Point, Greensboro, and Reidsville High Schools. In this meet Burlington took second place, making 44½ points against the 49½ of Reidsville, who carried first honors. Captain Councilman took first place in the 100 yard dash, and second in the 220.

The highest individual scorer for Burlington was Edwin McPherson, a new man, who made 10½ points in the field events. Joe Riddle added honor to himself, and to his school as well, by leaping 20 feet 5 inches in the broad. This is two inches better than the State record. Floyd Whitfield took the half mile easily, and made a beautiful run in the relays. Dace Jones showed up well, especially in the weight events, while Paul Simpson had plenty of endurance in the distances. The relay team, which appears to have future cup-winning possibilities, was run by Floyd Whitfield, Forest Qualls, Clyde Rich, and Robert Councilman, with Joe Riddle and Otis Windham as alternates.

The following also deserve mention: Marvin Shepherd, Freeland Workman, O'Connor Maynard, Walter Brown, and Millard Qualls.

Baseball Prospectus 1924

BURLINGTON HIGH SCHOOL IS ALWAYS depended on to furnish plenty of excitement for any of her rivals when baseball season opens. The old National Game does not suffer for lack of interest and enthusiasm among the students. When Coach Dabb's first call for "volunteers" was sound, seventy-two eager and anxious aspirants stepped forward and signed on the dotted line. It required no little effort on the part of the energetic manager, Eugene Black, to furnish equipment and practice space for this great number. However, under the fostering eye and tutelage of the Coach, the number has been reduced to approximately three teams.

Good material is not lacking, as many of last year's stars, including Riddle, Nichols, Hall, and the Andrews brothers, are at their old posts. Everything points to an interesting and successful season, and indications are that the B. H. S. team will go on record as a winner.

HOME ECONOMICS CLASSES

THE DOE - WAH - JACK

The Home Economics Department

EIGHT YEARS AGO THE SCHOOL BOARD, feeling the need in the community for a course in which the principles of home-making should be taught, designed two rooms in the new building to be used as home economics laboratories.

An instructor for these courses was secured in the person of Miss Susanne Jones of Raleigh. The equipment for these laboratories was donated by the Woman's Club and selected by a committee from same, together with Miss Jones.

The first year there were eleven girls enrolled in the department. From this small beginning the number has steadily grown, until this year there have been enrolled one hundred thirteen girls in the Clothing Department, and ninety-four in the Food Department, making a total of two hundred seven. At the beginning of the third year the work was made compulsory in the sixth and seventh grades, owing to the fact that so many girls drop out of school before reaching the eighth grade. Sixty-five in the high school have elected the course this year.

The aim of the Home Economics Department is to help prepare the girls for future life. They are not just taught to "cook" and "sew," as some of the girls think before they have taken the course. Their work includes the following: (1) kinds, selection, preparation, and care of foods; (2) kinds and selection of cloth, garment construction, and the proper care of clothes; (3) how to plan and care for a home; (4) proper hygiene of the body.

In the Food Department the girls are taught how to plan, purchase, prepare, and properly serve meals. This takes up the composition of foods, value in diet, balanced menu (which contains all the food materials that are necessary for the growth, health, and support of the body), and ways of cooking the foods in order that all the food elements may be retained. The course also includes the selection and care of china, silver, glass, linens and furnishings of the dining room and kitchen.

In the Clothing Department the girls are taught how to make their own clothes, with emphasis placed upon the study of the origin, manufacture, cost, and durability of the different materials used. They learn which styles and colors are suited to the different types of people; also which colors are suited for the different seasons. During the Christmas seasons they make useful gifts. This year the class made very attractive ones, such as handbags from old automobile inner tubes, and glass and tin ware painted with enamelac and decorated with colored sealing wax. They also study the hygiene of the body in connection with the proper kinds of clothing to wear for each season. This includes the clothing which will give warmth, ventilation, and freedom of movement of the body.

The work is so divided that each girl in school has the opportunity to study both clothing and foods. In the sixth, eighth, and tenth grades a study of clothing is made; and of foods in the seventh, ninth, and eleventh grades.

Miss Emily B. Young is supervisor of the department and instructor in the Clothing Department. Miss Eunice White is instructor in the Food Department.

PHYSICAL ED. CLASSES

THE DOE-WAH-JACK

Physical and Health Education in the Burlington City Schools

GRADUALLY PEOPLE ARE beginning to realize that an academic education is of little value to a person who is weak, sick, and incapacitated, because of poor bodily training and hygienic habits during the first twenty years of life. Formerly but few parents and teachers thought of anything but the mental and social development of the children, the mastery of the classics, and being the center of the social whirl. Even now, for the physical and health phases of life, some teachers and parents are more than willing to depend upon patent medicines, tonics, panaceas, etc.

Bulletin 35, 1918, Bureau of Education, says, "Health is placed among the seven cardinal principles of secondary education"; and further that, "Health needs cannot be neglected during the period of secondary education without serious danger to the individual and the race. The secondary schools should therefore provide health instruction, inculcate health habits, organize an effective program of physical activities, regard health needs in planning work and play, and cooperate with home and community in safe-guarding and promoting health interests."

What are the aims of this physical educational movement? Toepel says it is, "To maintain a high standard of organic life by means of a rational development of the bodily organs and functions, to make a skillful and obedient servant of the mind, to render human life as free from bodily ailments as possible, these are the aims set forth in Physical Education."

What is Physical Education? Is it a developer of physical and muscular specialists, only? No. Is it an institution from which circus managers can recruit acrobats? No. Is it major sports, only? No. Is it mass play and mass athletics, only? No. Is it formal calisthenics, only? No. The development of the physical and neuro-muscular systems is included, along with some formal calisthenics, major sports, and mass play and mass athletics. Some of the aims of physical education are: to bring about a wholesome and ready response between the muscles and mind and insure good psycho-physical reactions; to promote efficiency of the circulatory system and the functions of the respiratory organs; to increase the volitional control of the body through better neuro-muscular coördination; to relieve congested venous circulation due to faulty posture in the schoolroom, home, and at work; to counteract or relieve a tired mind caused by hours of study and recitation; to enliven a sluggish, or partially inefficient vasso-motor system, through passive, resistive, or active physical activities; to teach pupils fundamental laws of hygiene, both personal and home; and to teach preparation of food, habits of eating, dress, exercise, work, and sleep.

Burlington is numbered among the few schools of the South that employ a Medical Examiner as a regular school official. Already his examinations have revealed the fact that approximately twenty-three per cent of the pupils are handicapped by serious physical defects. Every effort is made to get the parents to have the defects corrected when reported by the Medical Examiner.

The entire program of the City Schools' work in physical education is intended to be a health promoting program. No attempt is being made to do specialized work, those few who desire to participate in special events are allowed to do so if physically fit. An effort is made to arrange a health and physical education program that will make more efficient boys and girls, and eventually men and women, mentally, because they feel better; physically, because their bodily development is being directed by corrective and hygienic exercise; morally, because the spirit of fair play and sportsmanship is stressed in every event whether it is football, basketball, baseball, track, tennis, cage ball, or some other mass game; socially, because everyone is being taught to play some game and associate with others in organized mass games and the social phases of physical activities.

J. V. DABBS, Physical Education Director.

Our Library

The public library is a great institution, free and open to everybody, for the intellectual advancement of a nation. Why stop learning when one's school days are over. When a person has access to a public library, be he rich or poor, he need never stop learning as long as he lives. Every day brings a new treasure, a new wealth of knowledge which his eager mind seeks, grasps, and devours. Each day puts into his hands a new tool, a better implement that he can use in gaining the end towards which he is working.

A survey was recently made by the faculty of one of our state universities concerning causes for failures in the freshman college year. Four reasons were given for these failures; one was, the students showed lack of training in using the ordinary tools of a library. Not being accustomed to a library, they were unable to help themselves to valuable material. Burlington High School students do not enter college handicapped in this way.

Although our library is small as yet, all of the classes feel a great indebtedness to it, and to it owe a great deal of their success. However, the library is constantly growing, and even now college students find in it material that their own college libraries do not have. Accessions are being added all the time at the rate of about forty a month and we now have about four thousand volumes.

The fact that the people of the city, as well as the students, are beginning to realize the value of the library, is shown by an average increase of forty-seven new readers each month and the steady increase of circulation, which now amounts to approximately one thousand seven hundred twenty-four each month.

The above goes to show the great value, and the absolute necessity of a public library, and the splendid work that Miss Lily Moore, our librarian, is doing. Miss Moore came to us from New York City and has proven herself thoroughly familiar and proficient in library work. She has certainly been an indispensable aid to the different members of the class of '24, who are quick in appreciating her good work.

AUBREY WINDHAM, '24, Assistant Librarian.

THE DOE-WAH-JACK

Growth of the Burlington Schools

DURING THE SCHOOL TERM OF 1918-19 there were enrolled in all grades of the Burlington white schools 1,208 pupils. In 1922-23 there were 1,607—an increase of one hundred each year for the four years.

In the high school 164 were enrolled during 1918-19, and there were 18 graduates. In 1923 there was an enrollment of 382 and 56 received diplomas. Statistics gathered on this subject indicate that a bigger per cent of our pupils remain in school until they finish, and go to college than in any other school system of the state. This is accounted for in large measure by the Stay-in-School-and-go-to-College Socials, originating in our high school and now widely followed in other places, by the literature on the subject of the value of high school and college education, placed in the hands of our pupils each year, and by the coöperative spirit and high morale of our student body and teaching force.

Burlington at this time has a far-sighted building program under way for her schools. The first unit of a modern and attractive building is in process of construction on a beautiful site in the Fourth ward, and a similar one is under way in the wonderful oak grove of the old Union Church property. A most attractive site, overlooking the entire town has been purchased in the First ward, on which will be erected another grade town school within something like two or three years.

The present Broad Street building will soon be used almost entirely by the Junior and Senior high schools. Certain rooms on the basement floor will be thrown together for laboratories and Manual training shops for the Vocational education of the boys, who are now not being fully cared for in this respect.

Some of our leaders who can always be found in the vanguard of progress—those people who dream dreams and see visions, have already visualized a great high school structure on the hill between Burlington and Graham to be known as the Burlington-Graham Vocational High School, dedicated to the splendid youth of these two sister towns and to the proposition that all boys and girls should have equal opportunities for that kind of training which will develop their inborn capacities and fit each one for his particular work in life. Such a united effort would be in line with the trend of the times in education, and no community can boast of more unselfish and progressive school boards and citizens than can Burlington and Graham. Americans have been accused of only looking as far ahead as the first of the next month. In thinking of a great vocational and technical high school let us look years ahead, for where there is no vision great things will never be achieved.

Bobbie's Toad

THE CALM BEFORE THE STORM WAS ON. All day there had been hustling and excitement and now just an hour before the wedding everything was quiet. Bobbie was the only one who was not busy. Dressed for the wonderful event, he came slowly out of the house and went into the garden. There he stopped by an old board, reached down, and picked up an ugly brown toad. Bobbie carried his repulsive pet toward the house. When he reached the back steps he sat down and amused himself by rubbing its back. Delighted with this treatment, the toad puffed out his sides until it seemed as if he were in danger of bursting. Then another thought took possession of Bobbie, as he heard Ordelia pounding ice in the kitchen. Quickly he arose and went inside.

"Ordelia, you got any ice cream ready to eat yet?"

"No, I ain't. An' I want you to git right out of heah wid dat toad. Ain't I tol' you time an' again not to come a bringin' sich a thing in my kitchen?" demanded the irate Ordelia.

"I thought you'd open it to see if wuz froze yet," said Bobbie, as he quietly slipped the toad into the pocket of his blouse.

After the ugly thing was out of sight, Ordelia cut a generous slice of cake for Bobbie and then said affectionately, "Now you go an' git out o' my way. I got to fix some ice water an' take it to Miss Margie."

Bobbie went to the library door and peeked in. He had strict orders not to enter, so he went on up stairs to see his sister. When she held out her arms to him, Bobbie accepted her hug without a murmur.

"You won't forget them skates you promised to get me in Philadelphia, and something from New York that he promised?" urged Bobbie.

"No, Bobbie, I won't forget one single thing I promised you, and I want you to be a good boy and take—" Marjorie screamed and sprang to her feet as she brushed the toad from her lap. "Bobbie! How could you? You know how I hate toads!"

"Well now, Sis, I didn't know he'd hop out of my pocket," explained Bobbie apologetically.

Ordelia, who had just entered with the water, began to scold. "He'd ought not to a brought that thing heah. Toads is bad luck."

"Hush, Ordelia. That's nonsense."

"Well now, they sho' is. Smoke Grey's boy done kilt one, and dat very day their cow quit a givin' any milk."

Then Ordelia began to scold Bobbie, who had crawled under the bed to capture his pet. Shamefacedly he took his toad and went back to the garden.

Marjorie sat down trying hard to regain her composure. A second later, catching her breath with a sharp cry she slipped from the chair to the floor and began to feel about, exclaiming as she did so, "My ring—My diamond is gone! It has come out of the setting! I thi—think I had it since I was sitting here," and she bit her lips to keep them from trembling.

THE DOE-WAH-JACK

Immediately a search was started. Marjorie was not sure when she had last seen the stone. "I can't be married until I find it. I simply can't! It must be found!" she kept saying.

Down in the kitchen Ordelia was doing her part to find it. She looked on the floor, in the flour barrel, in the oven, in the ice cream freezers, and in every other unlikely place. When Bobbie came in from the garden where he had left his toad, Ordelia began to relieve her feelings.

"Now, if you ain't gone an' played it, well I don't know why! Miss Margie's dimont's done gone from the ring, an' all on 'count o' dat toad. I knowed it!" and Ordelia began to take the wood out of the box and place it back at the same time. "They ain't no use in me lookin' fer it when hits done gone; an' Miss Margie's done swear she ain't never goin' to marry till she git it. De Lord knows she'll done be a ole maid 'fore hits foun'," continued Ordelia, as she began to look through the cabinet moving every box and going over the space very thoroughly.

Slowly Bobbie went through the house and sat down on the front steps. He was utterly miserable. Upstairs he could hear excited talking and steps going to and fro. He swallowed heard, got up, and went back to the kitchen.

By this time Ordelia was standing in the middle of the floor with folded arms, swaying to and fro. "Lordy, Bobbie, Miss Margie done say she ain't never goin' to marry till that dimont is foun', and hit ain't nowhere. An' dars all dem people at the church an' all dem blocks of ice cream to be et; an' de Lord only knows what's goin' ter happen next. Hits dat toad dat's done fetched all dis on. Toads ain't made to play wid nohow; an' you ought ot go and kill the thing right now."

"But Ordelia, when you kill 'em, won't somebody's cow go dry?" inquired Bobbie.

"Humph! we ain't got no cow to go dry, an' dats the reason dis awful thing done happen. I reckon Miss Margie 'll die," and Ordelia flung her apron over her head and wept audibly.

Poor Bobbie went slowly out of the kitchen and into the garden. His eyes were large, but there was a determined look on his face. He reached down and pulled his toad out from under the board. Never before had it felt so cold and clammy as now. Bobbie shut his eyes a minute to keep from seeing the thing he held; and stifling something akin to a sob, he arose and went rapidly from the garden. Straight into the house and right up to Marjorie's room. He brushed past several bridesmaids and stood in front of his sister.

"Marjorie, I—I—Ordelia said I was to blame and here it is," and Bobbie held the toad towards Marjorie.

Marjorie quivered with suppressed feeling, but said firmly, "No, Bobbie dear, you're not to blame. Take your toad back to the garden at once."

"Bu—bu—but Marjorie, it's your diamond. He swallowed it on the floor under the bed, just as I caught him a while ago," and dropping the toad, Bobbie fled.

THE DOE-WAH-JACK

The Operetta

THE ROMANTIC OPERETTA, "The Gypsy Rover," was presented by the High School Glee Clubs on April fourth at the Municipal Theatre. This attractive and enjoyable play was staged under the efficient direction and management of Miss Dorothy M. Shaw, the School Music Supervisor.

"The Gypsy Rover" tells the story of Gypsy Rob, later known as Sir Gilbert Howe of English nobility. Rob, when an infant, is stolen by his nurse, Meg, who later marries a gypsy, Marto. Rob grows to manhood among these gypsies, believing Meg and Marto to be his parents.

It happens one day while riding with her fiancée, Lord Craven, Lady Constance Martindale becomes lost in the woods. They wander to the gypsy camp, where Constance and Rob meet and fall in love at first sight. After many complications in their pursuit for happiness, Rob leaves England. He returns after two years as Sir Gilbert Howe, having come into his estates, his identity having been proven by Meg. He also wins Constance, who had remained true to her love for Rob.

JOKES

ADAM WAS LUCKY

*Whatever trouble Adam had,
No man in days of yore,
Could say when he had told a joke,
"I've heard that one before."—Selected.*

AGNES KING: "I'm never happy unless I'm breaking into a song."

MELBA WARREN: "Why don't you get the key? Then you won't have to break in."

MISS MORROW (Looking over a paper): "Dan, your spelling is dreadful."

DAN LOY: "That ain't a spelling lesson; that's a composition."

UNSOLICITED LETTER TO THE KARO CORN SYRUP COMPANY:

"Dear Sirs: Though I have taken three cans of your corn syrup, my feet are now no better than when I started."

THE DOE-WAH-JACK

SHE: "Are late hours good for one?"

JAMES HOLT: "No, but they are fine for two."

GRAVES: "How can I keep my toes from going to sleep?"

KENT PATE: "Don't let them turn in."

HILDA KECK: "Why, it's only six o'clock. I told you to come after supper."

MAX RIDDLE: "That's what I came after."

NORA LANE: "At last I've found perpetual motion."

GLADYS HOLT: "Where?"

NORA: "John Nichols' smile."

ED CURLEE: "Human anatomy is a marvelous thing."

ROY CLARK: "How's that?"

ED CURLEE: "You can pat a man on the back and his head swells."

MISS MOORE (on History): "Virginia, name a notable date in ancient history."

VIRGINIA WILLIAMSON: "Anthony's date with Cleopatra."

DACE JONES: "Did you read where a man went eight years without a bath?"

"BOB" HALL: "No, I never read dirty jokes."

MR. LEONARD (on Physics): "Luther, what is a good conductor of electricity?"

LUTHER MONTGOMERY: "Why-er-er-r—"

MR. LEONARD: "Correct. Now what is the unit of electricity?"

LUTHER: "The 'what' sir?"

MR. LEONARD: "Very good; be seated."

RICHARD SEXTON: "Well, nurse, is the inflammation serious?"

MISS CATES: "Not at all; just a boil on the back of your neck, but I would advise you to keep your eye on it."

AN ESSAY ON PANTS

Pants are made for men and not for women. Women are made for men and not for pants. When a man pants for a woman and a woman pants for a man, we have a pair of pants; such pants do not last. There have been many mistakes made about pants; such mistakes are called breeches of promise. Pants are like molasses, thinner in hot weather and thicker in cold weather. There has been much discussion as to whether "pants" is singular or plural. When a man wears pants, it is plural; when he does not, it is singular. If a man goes on a tear in his pants, that's all right; but when his pants go on a tear, that's all wrong. If you want to make your pants last, make your coat first.

MRS. RAINEY (To Alyse Smith, who came in late to class): "Why are you so late to class, Alyse?"

ALYSE (Earnestly): "The bell rang before I got here."

THE DOE-WAH-JACK

WILLIAM ELLIS: "Miss Miller, can a fellow be punished for a thing he hasn't done?"

MISS MILLER: "Of course not."

WILLIAM: "Well, I haven't done my Algebra yet."

MR. LEONARD (on Biology): "Ralph, where is the biceps femoris?"

RALPH McIVER (reluctantly): "I'm not sure, but I think it's somewhere in Egypt or Africa."

BYRON HAWORTH (at station): "Quick, give me a round-trip ticket."

AGENT: "Where to?"

BYRON: "Back here, of course. Where do you suppose?"

MISS CARROLL: "Who was Homer?"

"LEVI" WHITFIELD: "The guy Bahe Ruth made famous."

CUSTOMER: "Waiter, there is a splinter in this cottage pudding."

WAITER: "Well, wot d'ye want; the whole cottage?"

LOUIS GREGG: "What makes Dace Jones' hair so red?"

KENT THOMPSON: "It's so wiry that every time he washes it, it rusts."

OTIS WINDHAM: "What is a kilogram, anyway?"

THOMAS BRANNOCK: "A hundred feet, isn't it?"

OTIS: "Naw, that's a centipede you are talking about."

John Ingle says he has often wondered why all our famous men were born on holidays.

FERN LASLEY: "What's the difference between your ears?"

CLYDE HAWN: "I don't know."

FERN: "One block."

THAMES APPLE: "Do you think kissing is very dangerous?"

MARY E. CHEEK: "Well, it has put an end to a good many bachelors."

ERMA STADLER: "What's the difference between a skunk and a male mortal who uses perfume?"

CARLEEN PENNINGTON: "I don't know, what?"

ERMA: "A skunk was horn that way and can't help it."

MISS MOORE: "James, what is your opinion of civilization?"

JAMES ELDER: "It's a good idea; somebody ought to start it."

DOORKEEPER OF A PICTURE SHOW: "So you want to see a boy inside, eh? Who is he?"

ALLAN HALL (confidentially): "Me."

CLARA RUDD: "I have a hair-raising story."

POLLARD ISLEY: "Tell it to Mr. Rainey, he's nearly bald-headed."

TED BROWN (at piano recital): "What's that charming thing she's playing?"

FRANK DE MOSS: "That's a piano, y' dud."

"PEANUT" FOGLEMAN: "I'm afraid of a clot on the brain."

HARRISON SIMPSON: "Don't worry, it can't be a big one."

The Editors' Appreciation

AFTER WAITING PATIENTLY for you to peruse the preceding seventy-five pages, we, the Editors, wish to offer a few words of explanation and appreciation. We wish to say that however glad you may be to reach the end of this volume, your joy cannot be surpassed by ours. The publication of this book has been a herculean task for us, and we are glad, and also proud to see it finished. We have labored unceasingly to create this first volume of the DOE-WAH-JACK, and we hope it will, in some measure at least, meet with your approval. We have tried to give you some insight of life in the Burlington High School. We sincerely trust that you will not criticise our mistakes too harshly, for we have made many of them. But we have done our best, and in doing our best we wish to express our heartfelt thanks and sincere appreciation to Mr. Haworth who has encouraged us, to Mr. Halfacre who has faithfully worked and steadfastly borne with us, to each member of the faculty who has given his coöperation, to each member of the staff, to the student body, to all who have the welfare of the DOE-WAH-JACK at heart, and to those citizens of Burlington who have so readily supported us.

In saying farewell to the friends of the DOE-WAH-JACK let us repeat that we have been repaid many times over for our labors on this magazine. We are grateful for all the encouragement which you have given us and may the coming DOE-WAH-JACK staff be enabled to "Build still more stately mansions."

A $500.00 Resolution

THE IDEAL business life covers a span of thirty years—ten years for a good start—then twenty years of progress. THE average man has little opportunity to invest money. First, because he is inexperienced, and second, because the opportunities offered him are for unattractive propositions. Again his income generally ceases when he ceases to labor. It is of the utmost importance that his savings be carefully placed in interest bearing securities so that in later life they can in turn earn sufficient income for his needs.

WE wonder if you know that $500.00 laid aside each year from your income with compound interest at 6% will give you an estate of $6,590.00 in ten years and an estate of $18,393.00 in twenty years. The latter amount invested at 5½% will give you an income of over $1,000.00 a year, leaving the principal intact for your family.

RESOLVE to save $500.00 for 1924 and start a systematic method of investment. We will on request furnish a statement showing just how much should be laid aside annually to obtain any desired result.

WE believe that First Mortgage Real Estate Loans are the ideal form of investment for the above purpose. They net a higher rate of interest than Government Bonds and are classed by most of the large financial institutions as next in order of safety.

The ABC's of
The Seeman Printery

is the first letter of the word "ART." Art in printing means the style, the elegance, its suitability to the purpose for which it is intended. Art is the "how" of printed matter. Each piece of printing should be dressed in that particular style which will make it most effective in accomplishing its purpose. That is real Art.

B is the first letter of the word "BUSINESS." There is a saying that "business is business," which means that it should be given the very best possible attention and that all promises should be fulfilled. It is a very common experience to be looking for something and to be really disappointed because it fails to come when expected. Business would be more successful if all lived up to requirements in this particular; the fulfillment of a promise is an obligation.

C is the first letter of a great word, "COURTESY." Who cares to deal with a firm that is discourteous? How pleasant business can be made if all participating in it are pleasant and courteous! Really, people will not deal with those who are discourteous. On the other hand they turn to those who are courteous and kind.

The new and unusual—that sparkling reality which is known as the life of each school year—is caught and held forever within the pages of Bureau built annuals. The ability to assist in making permanent such delightful bits of class spontaneity rests in an organization of creative artists guided by some 17 years of College Annual work, which experience is the knowledge of balance and taste and the fitness of doing things well. In the finest year books of American Colleges the sincerity and genuineness of Bureau Engraving quality instantly impresses one. They are class records that will live forever.
